DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-16, 18-29, 40-43, 45-47, drawn to liquid detergent and laundry compositions and methods for increasing their viscosity, classified in class 510, subclass 418.
 - II. Claim 17, drawn to a method of treating a surface, classified in class 510, subclass 109.
 - III. Claims 30-39, 44, drawn to a stabilizing system/liquid composition, classified in class 510, subclass 405.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the detergent can be used to treat other substrates besides fabric, such as dishes. The composition can also be used as hand soap.
3. Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because there is no crystalline hydroxy-containing stabilizer required. The subcombination has separate utility such as a stabilizing system for hand creams.

For invention III, the examiner is unsure if applicant is claiming a stabilizing system or a liquid composition. It is unclear whether the stabilizing system requires the liquid composition to be present or if the thread-like structuring system is the stabilizing system. For purposes of restriction, these claims have been grouped separately and treated as a stabilizing system.

4. Inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case invention III may be used as a stabilizer for hand creams.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Claims 1, 2, 13, 14, 16, 18, 19, 24-28, 29, 40-43, 45, 46 in Group I and claims 30-31, 35-39, and 44 in Group III are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising:

Fabric Substantive agents:

- A. silicon-containing moiety, claim 3;
- B. cationic charged moiety, claim 4;
- C. nitrogen-containing moiety, claim 5;
- D. polyethylene glycol moiety, claim 6:

Crystalline hydroxyl-containing materials:

- 1. stabilizers containing fatty ester or fatty soap moiety, claim 7;
- 2. stabilizers derived from castor oil, claim 8;
- 3. stabilizers of the formula in i), claims 9, 10-12, 20, 21-23 in Group I, and claims 32, 33-35 in Group III;
- 4. stabilizers of the formula in ii), claims 9, 20 in Group I and claim 32 in Group III;
- 5. stabilizers of mixtures of i) and ii), claims 9, 20 in Group I and claim 32 in Group III;
- 6. materials of formula b), claim 47.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
